LEL Group Announcement

The LEL Group is a European Distributor organisation operating for more than 20 years and dedicated to excellence.

Following a strategic review, Ricardo Molina, S.A.U. ceases to be a member.

This LEL strategic alliance of privately owned technical distribution specialists provides technical sales and supply chain services to Principals from around the world. A significant benefit of LEL lies in the personal investment of owner managers in long term relationships with manufacturing companies.

LEL provides unparalleled and dedicated long term access to industrial and life science applications in local markets and achieving progressive sales growth.

Contact LEL for more information: info@lel-group.com

A further announcement will be made on the membership of the LEL Group in Spain and Portugal.
